Ann E. Thornton: Good morning, everybody. Good morning. Thanks for being here today. This is -- welcome to the Brady Corporation Annual Shareholders Meeting. I'm Ann Thornton. I'm Brady's Chief Accounting Officer. Before we begin this morning's formal presentation, I just need to run through a few opening remarks regarding forward-looking information, so bear with me. Words such as expect, will, may, believe, forecast and anticipate are just a few examples of words identifying forward-looking statements. Forward-looking information is subject to various risk factors and uncertainties, which could impact our expected results. You can read about these risk factors in more detail in our 2019 Form 10-K, which was filed with the SEC in September of this year. All right. Moving on to the agenda on Slide #3. We will first announce our -- the election of our Board of Directors. And then Michael Nauman, our President and CEO, will deliver the President's report. And then we will conclude with questions and answers. So right now, I'd like to hand it over to Mr. Conrad Goodkind, Brady's Chairman of the Board.

Conrad G. Goodkind: Thank you, Ann. I'd like to introduce our Board to those of you who don't already know them. And I'm pleased to introduce, first, our 2 -- we have 2 new members of the Board who joined us in February and ask, as you are introduced, if you'd stand and just wave to people so that they know who you are. In reverse alphabetical order, Michelle Williams joined us in February. She is the Global Group President for Altuglas Industrial, has a background in chemical engineering -- actually, has a PhD in chemical engineering. Thank you, David Bem, who is Vice President for Science and Technology and the Chief Technology Officer for PHD, Inc. David also has a PhD in chemistry. So our returning directors. First, Pat Alexander. Pat is -- was formerly the Executive Vice President and Chief Financial Officer of Danaher Corporation. Gary Baikema. Gary was an Executive -- Senior Executive Officer with Bayer, or Bayer, as they say, in Germany, which produces aspirin and a multitude of other products. Liz Bruno, Elizabeth Bruno, another one of our PhD directors. Liz is the President of the Brady Education Foundation and formerly on the faculty of University of North Carolina. Nancy Glone. Nancy formerly a Senior Executive Officer with Ford Motor Company. Myself, Conrad Goodkind, I'm a retired and a recovering lawyer, as we say, with -- formerly with Quarles & Brady, which is a law firm here in Milwaukee. Brad Richardson, Brad is the Chief Financial Officer of PolyOne. Frank Harris, our longest-serving director. Frank is the CEO of Akron Polymer Corporation and formerly the distinguished professor of Polymer Science at Akron, University of Akron, also a chemistry PhD. And last but not least, of course, our CEO and President, Michael Nauman. So we're very proud to offer these directors for reelection. It is, I think, a very distinguished Board, a high-quality Board, a thinking Board. We have 4 PhDs, 2 former or current Chief Financial Officers, 3 other senior executives or were former senior executives, and one lawyer, which people have impressed upon me as enough for one Board. So I'm pleased to announce that each of the directors has received 100% of the Class B votes shares for reelection and they are reelected for another term. Now I'll turn the mic over to Michael Nauman for a few updates on Brady. Thank you.
